DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "marker strip being formed integrally with a wall of the bag" (claim 1) must be shown or the feature canceled from the claims. No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The specification fails to provide an adequate written description of how the "marker strip is formed integrally with a wall of the bag".

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 1, 2 and 4-14 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-17 of U.S.

Art Unit: 3727

Patent No. 6,637,937 in view of Cappel et al. 999. U.S. Patent No. 6,637,937 discloses the claimed device it is unclear if the closure strip is fixed in its in-use position with a single-use adhesive zone. Cappel et al. '999 discloses that it is known in the art to permanently adhere an analogous closure strip in its in-use position. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the closure strip of U.S. Patent No. 6,637,937 in its in-use position with a single-use adhesive zone; taught to be desirable by Cappel et al. in order to prevent the closure strip from being removed from the bag without tearing or cutting.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

7. Claims 1, 2, 6-9 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being clearly anticipated by Cappel et al. '999. See Figs. 4a-4d.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 3, 10, 13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cappel et al. and Ishizaki (European Patent Application No. 0 941 937 A1, cited by applicant).

Regarding claim 3, Cappel et al. '999 discloses the claimed invention except for the tamper-evident label 40 positioned adjacent the slider instead of covering the slider. Ishizaki shows that covering the slider with an analogous tamper-evident strip is an equivalent location known in the art. Therefore, because these two tamper-evident strip locations were art-recognized equivalents at the time the invention was made, one of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to place the tamper-evident label over the slider.

Regarding claim 10, Cappel et al. '999 discloses the claimed device except for the tamper-evident label extending over the entire length of the bag mouth. Ishizaki discloses that it is known in the art to provide an analogous tamper-evident strip over the entire length of a bag mouth. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to the tamper-evident label of Cappel et al. '999 over the entire length of the bag mouth as taught by Ishizaki, in order to prevent access along the entire length of the bag mouth without tampering.

Regarding claims 13 and 14, Cappel et al. '999 discloses the claimed device, especially cutting the tamper-evident label. However, Cappel et al. '999 does not show the slider having a blade. Ishizaki discloses that it is known in the art to provide a blade 16 with a sloping leading face on the slider of an analogous bag. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the slider of Cappel et al. '999 with the blade of Ishizaki, in order to cut the tamper-evident label.
